Guide to Internship

Each year VCAM offers unpaid internship opportunities to promising undergraduates and graduate students, recent graduates and career changers who are considering careers in the arts, non-profits and museum profession.

Interns work throughout the museum on a wide variety of projects and tasks including everything from art education, cultural creativity and diversity to behind-the-scenes work. An internship at VCAM is an excellent way to gain hands-on, work team experience at a specific area of interest or field of study. Our internship program runs throughout the year and offers creative learning and a great way to check out future career options

All interns enrolled at the museum pay a fee of UGX 300,000 for their intern; and meet periodically in a general class to share their experiences, build professional skills, discuss issues that arise and complete reflective assignments.

Interns apply their talents and skills at the pioneer children's art museum in Africa. You will work alongside some of the brightest and most creative teams around, doing work that transforms the lives of children, families and the Museum.

I _____ acknowledge that I have received, read through and understood the contents of the Internship guide and hereby accept the offer.
